County Students Help the Berks Conservancy Plant Trees

Reading, PA — This week, the Berks Conservancy will be planting trees with Berks County students to improve water quality and wildlife habitat. The locations and details are:

Thursday, October 14 and Friday, October 15

Rain Date TBD

Kutztown Middle School and Maiden Creek Watershed Association will be helping the Berks Conservancy plant trees at Saucony Meadows, 20 Kohler Rd., Kutztown.

8:20am-12pm – 3 classes with breaks in between

180 native trees and shrubs will be planted in a wellhead buffer on private property. The Conservancy's desire is to involve the local children in activities on this property every year to give them a full understanding of the drinking water process and to underscore that water quality is everyone's business.

Saturday, October 16

Green Valley Elementary School, Green Valley Rd

9am to 12pm

Native trees will be planted to create a school campus habitat and outdoor classroom areas. Students will be able to appreciate and study nature on the school grounds. Green Valley Elementary School
